Questionnaire for the Applicant

1) How would you introduce yourself? (State your aims, expectations from life, hobbies, likes and dislikes, any philosophy you believe in)

I would introduce myself as a student who has been studying in the same prestigious school for the past 12 years and has been wanting to pursue a different board in the same school. My aim is to be able to be able to learn a lot of new things about the various particular subjects I like while also developing other secondary skills such as team building and leadership which will further help me in life. My expectations from life are that I will get as much as I deserve, which means that I will attain success according to how hard I work which I am willing to do. My main hobby is to listen to music. My likes are music, football, mathematics, computer science and mainly going out with my friends. My dislikes are memory based subjects and things that require for you to remember something which does not have any logic basis on them.

2) Why did you choose to do an IBDP?

I decided to choose to do an IBDP as I had always been fascinated with the idea of particularly doing the kind of subjects that I love to do mainly. I can perform high in them, having fun while doing them and not having to worry about my other weak subjects which I find tedious to do. The options of every board post tenth just seemed very brief as they mainly just focused on a particular group of subjects. This was, till I found out about IBDP which offers a vast group of different subjects for individuals to study for. This means that I can combine my strengths and my favourite subjects without having to miss out on them while also not having to deal with subjects that I've always disliked.

3) Have you any special achievements in the field of sports/ cultural activities/ community service etc?

No.

4) Mention a person or an incident that has impacted your thoughts, actions and personality. Explain how you have been influenced.

A person who has impacted my thoughts a lot is my brother, Harshvardhan Shah. He had also previously been in an IBDP of this prestigious school itself, year 2019-2021. He had always been enthusiastic about his likes and was sure of what he liked and wanted to do from the start. This inspired me to find out about my likes which aligned with the subjects available in an IBDP program. His actions of working till late to find out all this information on his own when he did not have any guidance amazed me and inspired me to do the same. I had always been unsure about my likes and dislikes till I saw him working hard on all these various things. Hence I decided to try out various different subjects to find out which suited me the most.

5) The fears and challenges that you need to overcome.

The main fears and challenges that I need to and wish to overcome root from me being an introvert. I have always had a hard time expressing myself to people that I am not that close with. If I get to know people then I can always be a great friend, a good leader and an amazing advisor to them, but I have trouble approaching people. Approaching new people is a very important skill that is needed in day to day basis which I wish to overcome after coming into this similar yet completely new environment of new people in this IBDP program. This also includes to enter more into various group competitions, group assignments and various different types of programs that can help me better my social skills and increase my friend circle which will certainly help me in the future.
