Questionnaire for the Applicant

1) How would you introduce yourself? (State your aims, expectations from life, hobbies, likes and dislikes, any philosophy you believe in)

I, Aadhira Phadnis, a student of Singhania School, envision a bright future with endless possibilities. I aim to challenge conventions, break barriers, and leave an indelible mark on society. With an unwavering determination to make a difference, I can grasp concepts, opportunities and various skills. My free time is spent drawing, learning languages, mostly Spanish and Russian, playing the Piano and Guitar, and listening to music. I do not particularly dislike anything, maybe except specific music genres.

A philosophy I believe in is "The concept of Solipsism"

Solipsism is a philosophical concept in which a person recognizes only their mind as the only reality that always exists and is always available.

According to solipsism, only a person's perception of reality and their thoughts are available, while the entire external world is beyond the bounds of certainty. This teaches us the art of mastering solitude, discipline, self awareness and dedication.

2) Why did you choose to do an IBDP?

The IBDP offers ample amount of opportunities that spark hope, excellence, freedom to learn and endless possibilities. The IBDP curriculum has attracted me towards this temple of education, where I can challenge myself to grasp various achievements, opportunities, skills, etc.

3) Have you any special achievements in the field of sports/ cultural activities/ community service etc?

I am part of the "Remove the Rag" NGO that aims to educate individuals in rural areas about mensuration and normalising the stage in every woman's life that has become taboo in our country. We teach young girls and boys, including the older age category citizens about women's periods.

I was part of our school Yamuna house team and participated in the Tug of War.

4) Mention a person or an incident that has impacted your thoughts, actions and personality. Explain how you have been influenced.

My father.

My father has had an impact and left a mark of hope in my life. He is extremely hard-working, punctual, disciplined and fit. If in a sticky situation I always ask my self- "What would my father do?" and find a solution. He has raised me to be the person I am today. Being brought up by him, there are various characteristics and qualities I have inherited from him. Seeing his hectic schedule and punctuality, I have learnt time management skills with dedication and discipline. I work hard looking at him burning the midnight oil so that my family has the required and desired items, a house, shelter, water, etc. My father has shown me how to love my neighbours. He is a surgeon who saves patient's lives and often times people look up to him as a "God." My father taught me that loving my fellow neighbours is the key to being loved by God. I aspire to grow up and be like him.

5) The fears and challenges that you need to overcome.

A fear I need to overcome is the fear of the dark. Although it is not the pure blackness and darkness that I fear, but the doubt of what lurks in it. If I am in a dark room alone, I often tend to run towards the light switch as my brain tricks my body into thinking that I am occupied with company. This is also an example of the "Fear of the unknown". Although it may sound childish, as an individual I am working towards it.

Challenges like academic tests, etc have intrigued me. I am always open to new challenges and obstacles to tackle.
