Questionnaire for the Applicant

1) How would you introduce yourself? (State your aims, expectations from life, hobbies, likes and dislikes, any philosophy you believe in)

I would introduce myself as a level headed and a goal oriented person. I like to think of myself as an ambitious person who would work hard for my achievements. From the young age of 5 I have always been interested in reading books and painting, I have grown from drawing on the walls of my house to nurturing my skills on a canvases. As a child I have always been interested in trying new things which led me to learn instruments and dance-forms. I have a helpful and fostering character and aim to make everyone comfortable and at ease in my presence.

2) Why did you choose to do an IBDP?

IBDP provides me the opportunity to learn and develop various skills that would be useful when I get accepted in a college abroad. It will give me the firsthand experience of studying in a cordial environment. The knowledge I will gain being in a IBDP classroom will help me to converse and relate to the peers later on in life.

3) Have you any special achievements in the field of sports/ cultural activities/ community service etc?

I like to help people every chance I get. This year my school hosted a crowd funding event to help the women living in arid and secluded areas by providing them water wheels to lessen the burden of walking with heavy water pots in the early hours of the day. I was encouraged by this idea and participated in this initiative. I persuaded and motivated my friends and family member to be a part of this cause by funding a small amount. I had managed to raise $21,500 by the end of 5 days. I consider this as my greatest achievement as there might be many women out there who feel relieved every morning by using the water wheel I helped fund.

4) Mention a person or an incident that has impacted your thoughts, actions and personality. Explain how you have been influenced.

The people who have impacted me most in life are my parents. I have seen them work hard to provide me with all better things in life. They are my role models and inspiration. They work tirelessly to provide, love, support and guide me towards success. They have a busy schedule but still they never make me feel left out or alone and are present at all times and help me make decisions. They have shaped me in the person I am today. They have instilled values and morals in me which I shall remember for the rest of my life. I strive to be like them and support everyone around me.

5) The fears and challenges that you need to overcome.

Everyone fears something or the other, be it an animal or an entity. I personally fear failing at something. To overcome this I strive to work hard at all times and be the best version of myself. As a person I have faced many challenges, one of them is the constant overthinking and stressing. Overcoming this habit of mine is difficult but I am working towards it and bettering myself everyday.
